Competitive rivalry: The primary driver is the number & capability of competitors in the industry. Many contenders providing undifferentiated products & services will reduce Automotive Chip industry attractiveness.

The threat of substitution: Where near substitute products exist in the enterprise, it raises the likelihood of consumers changing to options in response to price gains.

The threat of new entry: The profitable industries attract new entrants, eroding profitability. Major Classifications on the basis of Types: This report displays the production, revenue, price, market share, and growth rate of each type:

Logic ICs

Microcontrollers & Microprocessors

Analog ICs

Memory

Major Classifications on the basis of Applications: This report focuses on the status and outlook for major applications/end users, consumption (sales), market share, and growth rate for each application:

Powertrain

Chassis

Safety

Body Electronics

Telematics & Infotainment

Regions covered in the Automotive Chip report include:

Latin America (Argentina, Brazil, and Colombia)

Europe (Spain, Great Britain, Italy, Germany, France, Russia, and Benelux countries)

North America (USA, Canada, and Mexico)

Asia Pacific (Southeast Asia, Japan, China, India, and Australia)

And remaining others
