

Cosmos National, International Pageants Welcome Delegates to Sunny Orlando to Compete For Crowns

The organization strives to promote sisterhood, diversity and confidence among participants in its state, national and international contests

ORLANDO, FLORIDA, USA, July 2, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Cosmos Pageants return to Orlando, Fla. July 4-9 with contestants from multiple countries competing for National and International titles.

Cosmos has set itself apart from the traditional beauty pageant. The organization strives to promote sisterhood, diversity and confidence among participants in its state, national and international contests. Beauty and poise alone cannot secure the coveted titles - contestants must also compete in categories like "Fitness" and "Interview".

In addition to boosting contestants' confidence, Cosmos promotes volunteer work through its winners. The organization's website reads, "Whether it be through our support of the Association of Child Life Professionals or causes supporting education, we are focused on making a difference, one crown at a time."

Each contestant must have a cause they actively support. Then, after the titles have been secured, Cosmos supports the platforms of the winners which often involve charity work or social advocacy.

A shining example is Mrs. Cosmos International 2021, Katy Clatterbaugh, who dedicates her time to the fight against domestic abuse. Clatterbaugh volunteers at local shelters and domestic violence community organizations. She also supports organizations like The Jamie Kimble
