PopUp Mainframe, the mainframe-on-demand solution, is now available as a fully packaged cloud offering on Microsoft Azure Marketplace.

LONDON, UK, July 5, 2022

/EINPresswire.com/ -- PopUp

Mainframe, the mainframe-on-demand solution, today announced that PopUp Mainframe is available as a fully packaged cloud offering on Microsoft Azure Marketplace. With the Azure cloud service, Azure customers can now leverage PopUp Mainframe's mainframe modernisation capabilities to spin up new mainframe environment in minutes.

Being able to spin up a fully functioning mainframe environment in minutes is a complete game changer for business, accelerating organisations' ability to make change with mainframe self-service.”

Gary Thornhill, Founder PopUp Mainframe

Mainframe in the Cloud: Available for all

From Azure MarketPlace, customers can have their own PopUp Mainframe running in the cloud in minutes.

The PopUp virtual machine has been built, configured and performance tested to run optimally in Azure cloud. It gives the excellent performance and reliability expected from Azure infrastructure.

PopUp is leading the way in cutting edge mainframe modernisation practices. PopUp's latest Azure offering takes customers one step closer to creating mainframe environments on demand and accelerating their projects.

Integrate Mainframe-On-Demand with DevOps Pipelines

PopUp Mainframe is an API First platform, and integrates fully with all DevOps tooling.

It is easy to make PopUp look exactly the same as physical mainframe environments, as users can install any mainframe subsystem or bespoke application on their PopUp.

PopUp revolutionises the mainframe SDLC, accelerating delivery and cutting hardware costs. PopUp makes delivering projects on mainframe identical to delivering projects on distributed environments.

About PopUp

PopUp Mainframe is a brand new, cutting-edge mainframe modernisation product. With PopUp, customers can create mainframe environments on-demand and deploy them anywhere, including in the cloud.

All mainframe clients have a common problem: The shortage of non-prod environments for development and test. PopUp directly addresses this, providing fully functioning mainframes out of the box, instantly.

PopUp Mainframe can transform an organisation's IT strategy, as it removes the bottlenecks surrounding mainframe environments and finally allows mainframe projects to be fully agile!
