“Magellan the Magical: Or How Dreams Become Real’ by Krystal M. Harris is a touching story about a child (Kodi) experiencing situations that many children have faced or are currently facing at the present moment- bullies, loneliness, and divorce and opens the door for a deep, meaningful conversation between parent and child. Kodi suffered in silence for quite some time until he was gifted a magical toy. Magellan, the stuffed wolf, came alive in Kodi's dreams and helped grant his true heart's desires. The end of the story is NOT the end, or is it? The author poses that very question to the audience.”--Kameron Brook, Author

In writing her book and the companion journal, Harris wanted to create a story that would delight children while bringing parents back to their childhoods with a story that feels timeless, similar to “The Velveteen Rabbit” and “Winnie the Pooh.” “Magellan the Magical” is a book Harris hopes parents and children alike will be excited to set time aside to read together while taking its message to heart.

One of the book's main themes is the power of the universal Law of Attraction. Harris has experienced the power of this philosophy in her own life, going from a broke single mom out of work to now thriving and achieving her dreams after embracing the Law of Attraction. She believes that if this mindset can be mastered early on, children will grow up to achieve greater success in life. "My hope is that "Magellan the Magical" brings families closer together through magical storytelling and curiosity, all while building a positive mindset that children can carry with them for a lifetime. And there might be a few lessons in the story for parents, too," said

Harris. "Magellan the Magical" has been positively received by children, parents, and critics. The book has been nominated for numerous awards, including the 2022 International Book Award Nominee for Children's Mind Body and Spirit and the 2022 Outstanding Creator Awards Nominee for Children's Inspirational. It was also named a 2022 Maxy Awards Runner-Up for Best Fiction and Nonfiction Book of the Year.
