One of the reasons why HSO provides health benefits to the skin is its anti-inflammation properties.

“Inflammation is the cause of several skin conditions, such as dermatitis and heat rashes,” she added. “HSO contains gamma-linolenic acid, a ‘powerful anti-inflammatory,’ which also encourages ‘skin growth and new cell generation.’”

Troy Plummer, the co-founder of the company, said Vido's Health & Beauty USA products not only contain HSO but also essential fatty acids, Jojoba, Macadamia, Argan, and other natural oils.

"We are bringing a premium line of herbal beauty products for skin, hair, and body to American consumers," he added.
