How Sprint Data Solutions Worldwide Marketing Started

Sprint Data Solutions Worldwide Marketing was originally the dream of a disabled veteran. With military responsibilities seen to completion, it was time for a new start in a new direction. That direction was to move away from defense and focus on growth, specifically in the economy. The growth would be by helping businesses to build a foundation on the most important of resources, clients, and customers. A small start-up was formed to pursue this dream. Today, that business proudly boasts a staff with a combined total of over 50 years of experience in the marketing sector.

Sprint Data Solutions Worldwide Marketing started just before a big paradigm shift. The traditional marketing platforms like print and television advertising continued to dominate, but digital marketing was a new player that some suspected would make bigger waves. The company itself put the focus on direct mail marketing, an area that imparted crucial skills in data acquisition, management, and analytics. When digital rose to importance, Sprint Data Solutions Worldwide Marketing's data-based concentration provided an early mover advantage. It added digital marketing as a service and enjoyed significant gains for itself and its clients.

Currently, Sprint Data Solutions Worldwide Marketing has expanded its service range well past its original limitation of only the hometown of Las Vegas, Nevada. The rest of the USA is covered, including Alaska and Hawaii. North American access is also available with databases for Canada and Mexico. For groups ready for international dealings, it's possible to cross the Atlantic and use databases for European Union markets like France.

It's Not Just For Halloween

Halloween is traditionally and commercially associated with the time of year when the market for costumes and associated products and services is at its height. While this is true for many Americans, that doesn't mean that costumes are only bought at this time of year and only in small numbers. Some households in the US are Halloween costume buyers club members or others with an active interest in buying costumes and costume accessories throughout the year.

There can be many reasons for these people's need to be Halloween costume buyers club members. "Cosplay," for example, is a trend from Japan that is a combination of "costume" and "play" and means dressing up in a costume of a fictional character, such as superheroes, cartoon characters, video game characters, and more.

Costume Opportunities

Cosplayers can participate in many events over a year, requiring different outfits, sometimes even within the same event. For people with these interests, buying more than one costume can sometimes be a faster way to get the base parts and accessories used for premium, handmade cosplay outfits. This creates a constant cycle of new costume designs for upcoming events and Cosplayers and others require a regular resupply of costume-related products and services, which can lead to significant sales for the right businesses if they can reach them.

Finding Halloween Costume Buyers Club Members

Sprint Data Solutions Worldwide Marketing has lists for Halloween costume buyers club members everywhere in the USA.

The listings have complete national coverage but can also be narrowed down. Regional marketing efforts are possible, such as targeting only the Halloween customer buyers in the Pacific Northwest. Individual states can also be targeted, such as only Oregon. It's even possible to target a specific neighborhood in a town or city, such as only the Pearl District in Portland.

Listings can also be broken down according to demographic marketing requirements. Buyers like Latin Americans can be approached based on nationality or ethnicity. Faith-based categories, such as reaching out specifically to practicing Protestant buyers, are also available. It's even possible to use economic rankings, such as targeting only high net worth individuals.

Database contact details are available in different formats. For direct mail, traditional physical mailing addresses are standard. Digital marketing plans will be accommodated with databases including email addresses. If there's a telemarketing plan, home or business phone numbers can be provided. Cell phone numbers can be given even for text/SMS-based marketing strategies.
