JOE JONES CEO/Founder/Author

Joe Jones is a former police officer who was born in a gang ridden area of Los Angeles, California.

He was Drafted by the St. Louis Cardinals Major League Baseball Team. After Injury, Jones was an Office Engineer for a General Contractor, then Joined the LAPD receiving numerous Commendations and Awards before he was forced to retire. Jones became a Promoter of Events and concerts and a Celebrity Bodyguard to Talent such as Jay-Z, Damon Dash, Johnny Depp, Magic Johnson, Naz & Others. Jones served the community as a Youth Basketball, Baseball, and Football Coach.

TRUTH 4 CHANGE: "The Tragic Life of a Black LA Cop: Truth 4 Change." Jones served on the police force during one of the most tumultuous periods in LA history– he was one of the first on site at the Nicole Simpson murder scene, and on the ground diffusing crowds after the Rodney King beating. But unknown to the outside world, Jones's 8.5 years as a Black officer was fraught with unwarranted harassment, injustices, accusations, and assaults at the hand of other officers–resulting in severe PTSD and early retirement. Almost 20 years later, the tragic George Floyd murder impassioned Jones to muster up the courage to share his compelling story and the lessons he has learned, to advocate for police reform, and educate others how to avoid negative, and potentially fatal, interactions with law enforcement.
