

$88.1 Billion Denim Jeans Market is Likely to Grow at 4.2% CAGR during the Period 2021–2030 | Allied Market Research

PORTLAND, OREGON, UNITED STATES, July 11, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The most recognizable fabric in the world is undoubtedly denim. No other type of fabric has attracted such widespread acclaim around the world. These days, this tough material has developed into one that is so aesthetically pleasing that one may even get denim-based home décor items. Consequently, the denim industry has been viewed as a lucrative alternative in the mass market.

According to a new report published by Allied Market Research, titled, “Denim Jeans Market,” The denim jeans market was valued at $56.2 billion in 2020, and is estimated to reach $88.1 billion by 2030, growing at a CAGR of 4.2% from 2021 to 2030

Moreover, the Asia-Pacific region is providing lucrative opportunities for the growth of the market. This is owing to rise in disposable income in the emerging economies such as China & India, which has significantly increased the spending capacity of people on clothing for personal grooming, thereby boosting the growth of the global denim jeans market. Factors such as growing standard of living, introduction of denim jeans with antimicrobial properties, launch of eco-friendly denim jeans, surge in trend of wearing denim jeans in work stations, offices, & special occasions, and per capita consumption of the denim jeans, at the same time, are contributing to the growth of the market in more than one way.

However, the outbreak of the COVID-19 pandemic led to have a negative impact on the growth of the global denim jeans market. This is attributed to the implementation of the global lockdown, which resulted to halt the denim production hubs across the world temporarily. Due to strict regulations and ban on import & export activities, a severe disruption caused in the global supply chain. This in turn, created several difficulties in supplying the raw materials. Shortage of skilled labor force, temporary closure of retail stores & malls, dynamic changes in expenditure pattern, and decline in sales of denim jeans were few more factors that restrained the growth of the market, especially in the initial period. Nevertheless, the market has already started to recover and is expected to get back on track soon.

Furthermore, rise in sense of fashion among the global population is influencing the key market players to focus on product innovations with various designs, patterns, colors, and fitting. On top of that, several fashion influencers on social media and e-commerce platform are helping the fashion industry to grow with a wide array of denim jeans types such as skinny, tapered, athletic, and regular fit jeans, which is sequentially boosting the demand for denim jeans.

In addition, technological advancements have allowed Levi Strauss to design a new jean that is compatible with iPod music player. Also, this company has come up with a bullet proof denim jacket that has the looks of a perfect casual wear. Here, it is worth mentioning that the global denim jeans market has a huge scope to assemble immense growth in the years to come.
