

PCI Manufacturing Receives AS9100D:ISO Certification

Accreditation Allows Direct Market to Aerospace Industry

ATMORE, ALABAMA, UNITED STATES, July 12, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Following two years of relentless focus and effort, PCI Manufacturing LLC (PCIM) is now officially AS9100D and ISO9001:2015 credentialed.

Westly Woodruff, President/CEO of PCI Manufacturing, LLC, shared, "This accreditation now gives us the authority to independently market PCIM directly to the aerospace industry as a manufacturer."

The certification is valid for the scope of work that includes design, development, and provides aviation, space, and defense products and services, including parts, components, and assemblies. In addition to this achievement, PCIM's Fabrication Department is now AS9100D accredited for the first time in its history.

"I want to congratulate our team members who have worked diligently and selflessly on this process. This certification is a monumental achievement, and we consider it an eternal milestone for PCIM," Woodruff stated.

DNV GL Business Assurance USA, Inc. (DNV) the accrediting organization for this certification, certifies that the management location and affiliated sites have been found to conform to the
