Ulatas partners with Global Book Alliance to offer free book translations and further educational opportunities for all children.

NEWARK, NEW JERSEY, UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, July 12, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Ulatas, a While bringing education and fun stories to children is key, we also believe giving back to the global community should be an integral part of running any successful business.”

Shilpa Mittal CEO, Ulatas

global translation services company, partnered with the Global Book Alliance (GBA), an alliance that aims to support the delivery of free educational books to every child in the world. This partnership aims to ensure that books are translated into more languages and added to the Global Digital Library for children across the world to read and enjoy. The Global Digital Library is a flagship initiative of the GBA, and it collects existing high-quality resources that support open education and makes them available on the web, mobile, and print.

Through this alliance, Ulatas will be providing free translations of books into different languages for children worldwide. Initially, the focus will be on French translations, with plans to include other languages like Hindi, Bengali, Nepali, Vietnamese, Thai, Bahasa Indonesian, Spanish and Arabic. The aim is to translate at least 10 books per month and update them on the Global Digital Library for children to access globally in their local language. Ulatas will also support children’s education in their local language by providing a free translation of mathematics books.

Scott Walter, Deputy Chair of the GBA, said, “With the benefit of Ulatas’s translation services, the Global Digital Library can now make even more online titles accessible to children and youth and increase the diversity of languages in which the books are offered. We look forward to a long and productive partnership serving readers worldwide.”

Shilpa Mittal CEO, Ulatas resonated with this, “Ulatas looks forward to providing free translations of books for children in developing countries through this collaboration. While bringing education and fun stories to these children is key, we also believe giving back to the global community should be an integral part of running any successful business.”
