

DriverZ Welcomes New Partners

The S.P.I.D.E.R. Method of Defensive Driving is now available to even more students nationwide.

ENCINO, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, July 14, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- DriverZ is announcing new partnerships with driving schools in Pennsylvania, Georgia, California, and Indiana, which can now offer S.P.I.D.E.R Online Driver Education courses for teen drivers.

DriverZ.com is a community for new drivers, parents, and educators who are committed to saving teen lives. The company partners with leading driving schools to provide technology and online training programs, such as its state-approved driver education courses for new drivers. At the core of DriverZ training programs, however, is the company's S.P.I.D.E.R. Method, a simple yet very powerful training approach developed in collaboration with behavioral and driving experts, Hollywood writers, and Silicon Valley technology to appeal to today's generation. The goal of the S.P.I.D.E.R. Method Driver education training is to go beyond the minimum state requirements of traditional driver's ed and provide new drivers with simple techniques that will help them develop the driving muscle memory and skills needed to anticipate and avoid collisions.

In the company's most recent news, DriverZ is announcing new partnerships with the following driving schools:

- Betaccio's Driving School in Pennsylvania
- Gore Driving School in Georgia
- Upland Driving School in California
- Drive Academy in Indiana

Through these partnerships, DriverZ will now be able to reach even more students across the country to provide its renowned S.P.I.D.E.R. method and save teen lives.

"Traffic crashes continue to climb to its all-time high in the last 15 years," says Alfredo Felix, Strategic Partnerships Manager. "We are thrilled to bring our programs to local communities at the time when they are needed the most."
