landscape. We are very excited to join forces with Consortia and introduce our CDPE membership to the many benefits of this training program.” Tony Martinez, CDPE Proprietor and Lead Instructor.

“We are grateful to partner with the CDPE network of agents committed to serving American families by helping them avoid foreclosure or assisting them in transitioning into a new situation with dignity. Consortia offers AI driven predictive research on the blockchain, backed by the secondary markets, that determines and forecasts potential at risk families. We will work in conjunction with CDPE agents to assist those families in need." Sheila Fejeran, COO, Consortia.

"We are thrilled to partner with CDPE to bring the best agents into the network of blockchain services Consortia will be offering banks, lenders and capital markets." Teresa Grobecker, CEO, Consortia.

The Consortia blockchain solution offers AI driven predictive research on the blockchain, backed by the secondary markets, that determines and forecasts potential at risk families. Consortia will work in conjunction with CDPE agents to assist those families in need. We will be able to provide pre-NOD data to CDPE agents to help determine the steps needed to help the family move through the process and transition into the new situation. This could include selling the property and leasing it back to avoid disruption during an already difficult time. It may involve a short sale, cash for keys, or pre-foreclosure process. Consortia will provide the data, systems, and conduit to assist the agents as they serve the consumers.
