Each vehicle protection plan the company administers is designed to give the driver peace of mind when using their vehicle. These plans cover repairs and maintenance and can be a life-saver when significant repairs or maintenance are needed.

With each plan, drivers can enjoy free rental car service and roadside assistance. This means drivers do not need to worry about downtimes when their vehicles need to be fixed, as an alternative vehicle will be provided whether the repairs take an hour or several days.

Company Values of Veritas Global Protection

A detailed look at the company's values shows that customer service and satisfaction are at the core of its business. The following is a brief highlight of the company's values.

Transparency: Nobody wants to be lied to or taken around in circles. Fortunately, Veritas Global Protection is committed to transparency and honesty.

When a mistake is made, the company will admit the mistake and make amends. The company is committed to transparent, honest, and detailed communication with customers and partners.

Responsiveness: Keeping customers waiting for an answer or ignoring their phone calls and emails is unsuitable for business. The company values customers and is committed to prompt and effective communication.

When you call the company, you can be assured that there is a team on the other end of the line waiting to answer the call. Similarly, emails are responded to immediately, whether from partners or clients.

Innovation: Customers demand the best, and their needs vary daily. To ensure the company can always meet the coverage needs of all its clients, innovation is at the forefront of Veritas Global Protection's operations. Innovation helps to ensure both partners and clients are happy.

They Listen: Veritas's partnerships are essential because the partners come in direct contact with the company's clients.

Therefore, they always have ideas on how to improve things. That is why Veritas Global Protection always listens to all the ideas fronted by their partners.

Sustainability and Stability of the Industry: The auto warranties industry can become unsustainable if clients get dirt-cheap coverage or partners are paid too much for their services.

There is a need to strike a balance between affordability and compensation for partners for the services they offer. This is exactly what Veritas has done and is always striving to achieve. The result is a sustainable and stable business environment.

Global Thinking: Veritas understands that clients may drive across borders. Hence, the company has partnerships with neighboring countries to ensure drivers can have peace of mind wherever they drive their vehicles.

The leadership of Veritas Global Protection appreciates the fact that the customer is king. That is why they are committed to customer service and customer satisfaction.
