Geniie is the new Wave of independent music artist and producers, which has just released another album entitled Three 3 Three. On this album Geniie takes it upon himself to produced all of the 14 records on the album. Geniie is definitely on different level and is surely separating himself from the competition. Geniie really shows off his versatility with a mixture of different styles. Tell Me, which is the leading single from the album has a really stylish sound with a lot of creative punch lines and clever bars. The sample used in this record continues to ask "This is the thanks I get". Geniie adlibs the sample by asking tell me. On the record Geniie, over and over, is asking is this the thanks he get for all the many things he's done in his life and for the game. The production here by Geniie has its own unique sound.
