People without technical skills will create complex apps and streamline different processes within a couple of hours using their business logic and our app builder.”

Ashutosh K Thakur, Founder & CEO

“With rapid internet and smartphone penetration, the software application market is exploding. Every company needs a suite of custom apps to manage business processes. However, procuring apps is difficult, expensive and time-consuming. Clappia is a No Code platform on which creating custom process apps is as easy as working with Excel sheets. Once you have this platform, people inside your organization who do not have technical skills will be able to create very complex apps and streamline different processes within a couple of hours using their business logic and our app builder. Our existing customers love us and we are gaining more and more traction every single day. We're elated that Crozdesk has recognised Clappia as a Product Leader in the Business Process Management Industry for the second consecutive time. Milestones like these encourage our team to provide more useful features for our customers.” said Ashutosh K Thakur, Founder and CEO at Clappia.

Crozdesk's rankings and all other stats are based on verified B2B software reviews from real users and customers. Check Crozscore Ranking Methodology for more information.
