Pitch Roofing offers the industry's most extensive roofing and waterproofing solutions for roof restoration, repair, maintenance, replacement, and new construction projects.

Pitch Roofing, LLC keeps roofs in good condition throughout the Omaha area and the state of Nebraska. In their experience, restoration can significantly extend the life of a roof and delay replacement for many years.

The Pitch Roofing, LLC team, is based in Omaha, but they can be anywhere in Nebraska within a few hours. "We have the equipment and manpower to be anywhere in Nebraska that we are needed," Rick went on to say.

If a replacement is needed, replacing the roof will save the homeowner money from renovating the entire property due to structural damage. Replacement also increases the value of the property for the homeowner. Pitch Roofing, LLC is also highly competitive with pricing in the market, so you are not overspending for the maintenance of your home.

A regular roof inspection is more important than you think Roof deterioration is inevitable over time. All roofing systems need regular inspections and preventive maintenance. Without proper attention, seemingly minor issues can escalate into damage-causing leaks and even costly repairs. In some cases, ignoring maintenance can lead to premature roof replacement. Enormous damage doesn't have to happen if a roof is correctly maintained unless age is a factor, and then it is time to consider replacing the roof.

According to analyses performed by the Pitch Roofing team, restoration improves the performance of the existing roof and its components by identifying and repairing defects and providing a new surface to ensure long-term waterproofing. "That's why a regular roof inspection is more important than you think," explains Rick.
