How we evaluate the agencies - Methodology of the TOP

We have searched for on Google the relevant keywords for the industry: "SEO agency" or "Top SEO agencies" in the respective countries. Some results we extracted directly, organically, and some other results we extracted from directories, platforms and listings. The idea behind this is that if the agency succeeded in optimizing its presence on Google for the most searched keywords of the industry, then it will also be able to do that for its customers in their industries.

The searches were conducted in English, and we considered this language when it comes to the language they provide SEO services.

Also, when we find out a specific SEO agency in a country ranks in more listings as the best SEO agency out there, we consider that.

Another essential criterion we took into account was the company's position in the three-pack of Google Maps, but also the part of the respective company in the suggested searches from Google.

The positions of the companies in this TOP don't matter; the presence of the company at the top does.
