New PSS Board Officers (L-R) Christina Pagano, Secretary; Josie Lawrence, President; Martha Ferry, Outgoing President; Andy Craven, Treasurer

Rounding out the board leadership team are the Hon. Patricia Nunez as Vice President; Andy Craven, Treasurer, and Christina Pagano, Secretary.

We owe a debt of gratitude to Martha Ferry, whose hard work and financial acumen allowed us to position ourselves to thrive in an ever-changing world.”

PSS Executive Director Rimas Jasin

Lawrence succeeds Martha Ferry, who served as board president for the last eight years of her nine-year term on the board. Lawrence said it is a privilege to step into the “big shoes” Ferry leaves to fill at a time when the agency is re-emerging from the pandemic.

“It’s truly impressive what PSS was able to accomplish during COVID – even grow and expand,” said Lawrence, a recent retiree whose rich and varied professional career includes experience in geriatric services. She will serve on the Nominating Committee with board members Heather

Mee and Jon Chui.

“We owe a debt of gratitude to Martha Ferry, whose hard work and financial acumen allowed us to position ourselves to thrive in an ever-changing world,” said PSS Executive Director Rimas Jasin. “Fortunately for PSS, Josie Lawrence also has the rich depth of experience and expertise to continue to carry on the vision. I truly look forward to working with her.”
