Coach Dan Gable discusses the new Yellowblue LED lights at his museum.

During a $1.5 million dollar remodel funded by donations, the National Wrestling Hall of Fame Dan Gable Museum in Waterloo, Iowa installed $100K in new, LED lights from yellowblue LED, replacing all of the old, incandescent lighting in the building.

“After a seamless installation process, the new LED lights created an ambiance that really highlights the museum artifacts and provides a cooler, safer space for our employees and visitors,” states Coach Jim Miller, the Dan Gable National Wrestling Hall of Fame Director. “Best of all, we saved over 65% on our energy bills and eliminated the hassles and expense of bulb replacement and maintenance fees.”

The museum now uses approximately 65% less energy to power the new LED lighting and emits 70% less heat with the upgrade, saving thousands each year on their utility bills.

“As a huge fan of wrestling and all that Dan Gable has contributed to the world, especially our local area, it has been a huge honor to help the museum offer a better experience for visitors and reduce energy costs,” states Craig Schwienebart, yellowblue Eco Tech President.

Currently, yellowblue LED serves the entire Midwest and more and plans to expand significantly in 2022. To learn more, and see the exclusive interview with Coach Dan Gable, visit <https://yellowblueled.com/coach-dan-gable-yellowblue-led/>.
