

FILMMAKER LAKSHMI DEVY'S INDIE FILM "WHEN THE MUSIC CHANGES" SHINES LIGHT ON RAPE SURVIVOR'S TALE AMID TURBULENT TIMES

FROM EXECUTIVE PRODUCER JOHN TURTURRO, SHORT FILM NOW AVAILABLE TO STREAM IN U.S. ON iTunes, A PORTION OF PROFIT DONATED TO PLANNED PARENTHOOD

NEW YORK, NY, USA, August 2, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Independent drama "When The Music

I must say I was very impressed. And disturbed, in a good way! To pull this off is an accomplishment, especially wearing so many different hats as director, writer and actor.”

Executive Producer John Turturro

Changes” by doctor-turned-actor-turned-filmmaker Lakshmi Devy, revolves around a young Indian American woman who is dishonored or raped by men. The original short film acts as a societal reminder that it is not the woman but the man who ultimately loses his honor because of this malicious and vicious act. Executive produced by Emmy Award winner John Turturro, the internationally award-winning film from FiDi Talkies is now available to stream in the U.S. on iTunes, Google Play and YouTube. In light of the current Roe V. Wade overturn, for every iTunes rental over the next three months, a portion of the feature's profits will be donated to Planned Parenthood.

The film centers around a young beautiful Indian American woman (Lakshmi Devy) who finds happiness through her work as a documentarian and spending time with friends in her hometown in India. Trapped in an abusive relationship with her lover, albeit more emotionally than physically, she finds it difficult to accept that it is abuse. An unfortunate incident shakes her to the core, making her think about the relationship and finally take a call regarding her self-respect. The message is clear - every 16 minutes, a woman is raped in India.

“When The Music Changes is a brutal reminder that patriarchy and Rape Culture are two sides of the same coin,” said Lakshmi Devy. “Rape has more to do with power play than sex. The movie questions the foundation of the paradigm which shockingly believes that a women’s honor can be destroyed when she is raped or violated.”

The film stars Lakshmi Devy, Adith Arun, Naveen George Thomas, Shreya Navile, and Vignesh Shivasubramaniam. The film was written and directed by Lakshmi Devy and is executive produced by John Turturro.

"I must say I was very impressed. And disturbed, in a good way!" said Executive Producer John Turturro. "To pull this off is an accomplishment, especially wearing so many different hats as director, writer and actor. It's a worthy and important subject matter which takes all shapes and forms in so many different cultures. I thought the visual elements was strong and the story telling too."

"When The Music Changes" is based on real-life incidents and unprecedented violence and atrocities faced by women in the contemporary world. The film radiates a universal message of women's liberation that needs to be heralded in all nations including developing countries where evils like marital rape are still not taken into cognizance by law. It has already created a following in India and is marking its global U.S. debut.

Devy recently won the Gold Remy Award for Best Director at the 54th Worldfest Houston International film festival for "When The Music Changes." She joins the ranks of other recipients in the industry including Stephen Spielberg, George Lucas, Ang Lee, The Coen Brothers, John Lee Hancock, Brian de Palma, Randal Kleiser, Ridley Scott, Oliver Stone, and David Lynch.
