Growing demand for advanced material across several industries is a significant factor influencing growth of the market.

NEW YORK CITY, NEW YORK, USA,
August 3, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ --
The global retort packaging market is projected to be valued at USD 6.13 billion by end of 2028 from valuation of 4 billion in 2020, expanding at a CAGR of 5.5% over the forecast period. The growing demand for ready-to-eat or ready-to-cook meals across the globe is fueling growth of the retort packaging market. Additionally, the other factors impacting growth of the market include increasing demand for packaged food and beverages owing to growing single households, busy work life, and increasing spending power.

Retort packaging offers convenience and reduce overall weight of material, which is further encouraging adoption by the end use industries. This is a key factor driving growth of the retort packaging market and is likely to be same over the forecast period. Furthermore, the US Food and Drugs Administration (FDA) has approved the raw material and suggested that the packaging is safe for the sterilization process for enhancement of shelf life. This results in durability of packaging; rising awareness about such packaging is benefiting growth of the retort packaging market.
