More and more people are opting to build ADUs as a way to increase their income by renting them out, or just to create more living space without the need to sell out and buy a bigger home”

“More and more people are opting to build ADUs as a way to increase their income by renting them out, or just to create more living space without the need to sell out and buy a bigger home. However, for a long time now, the process of ADU construction has been fraught with many challenges, cost being a major one. At ADULA, we strive to keep your construction costs low by providing a free cost estimate and working within your budget as much as we can. You should visit or call our office to find out what the process and cost of building an ADU in Los Angeles using our services is like.”

The process of constructing an ADU in different states differs. The permits required, as well as the construction guidelines, vary from state to state. In Los Angeles, ADU Los Angeles has understood the process from start to finish. This is according to Amy Randall, who is in charge of marketing at ADLA. She explains that the firm offers to take over the construction process right from the start and all the way to the finish.

Finding a competent (yet affordable) ADU construction service in LA is probably one of the most difficult things to do. But according to ADLA, building your accessory dwelling unit with them will mean that you use the best experts in the construction industry at an affordable cost. The firm brings together top construction experts including contractors, architects, interior designers, and engineers to your project.

The firm also carries out affordable ADU conversion Los Angeles projects, especially on garages. It is cheaper to convert a garage to an ADU if you are tight on cash, and ADU understands that this is a key target area for their customers.
