

Enghouse Vidyo Launches Next Generation Virtual Health Care Platform

Enghouse Vidyo, a division of Enghouse Interactive and a leader in embedded real-time video solutions, today announced it is expanding VidyoHealth.

MCLEAN, VA, UNITED STATES, August 3, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Enghouse Vidyo, a division of Enghouse Interactive and a leader in embedded real-time video solutions, today announced it is expanding VidyoHealth, its turnkey telehealth solution.

Vidyo is expanding through a number of new innovations and an extension of its partnership with ViTelNet, the pioneer in telehealth innovation and enterprise virtual care.

Ideal for health systems that have been using videoconferencing tools for telehealth service lines, the new VidyoHealth offering is designed to make Direct to Patient virtual visits simpler and more efficient for patients and providers. The solution delivers fully structured workflows and core services like EHR integration, scheduling, automated notifications and reminders, patient check-in and triage, technology self-test, virtual waiting room and fully embedded Vidyo conferencing.

"As long-standing partners Vidyo and ViTelNet continue to break barriers while defining the future of scalable virtual care, the new VidyoHealth offering brings patient engagement to the forefront with intuitive functionality that allows care teams to engage their patients in a scalable manner," said Mark Noble, ViTelNet COO.

"Enghouse Vidyo is committed to delivering solutions that enable our customers to optimize their business processes and our partnership with ViTelNet enables us to help our health system customers operate highly efficient virtual care programs," said Aaron Soroka, Vice President of Operations, Enghouse Vidyo.
