“Getting the full operational picture and responding quickly and effectively means better risk mitigation for customers in all business sectors;” said Chris Britton, General Manager of RockDove. “This integrated platform brings together a powerful suite of cloud and mobile services to identify, prepare for, and respond to emerging threats.”

The solutions are available for corporations who want to reduce the risk to lives, property, brand and operational continuity. Deployment can be done quickly; in hours if a critical event demands immediate response.

Both companies will be at GSX Atlanta as co-sponsors of the InfraGard booth #1029.
