

New Central Park Dresser from dadada Baby is a breath of fresh air for nursery design

dadada Baby launches the brand new, ultra-practical, and undeniably beautiful Central Park Dresser

LOS ANGELES, CA, UNITED STATES, August 5, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- When function and beauty meet, great things are bound to happen.

Parents have a handful of important furniture choices to make for their nurseries. One of the most important is the dresser. A good dresser saves space, holds plenty, tucks away what one doesn't want on display, and, if one is especially lucky, doubles as a changing table and elevates the design of the room.

With the launch of the brand new, ultra-practical, and undeniably beautiful Central Park Dresser, dadada Baby just made the dresser shopping decision a whole lot easier for Fall 2022 new parents.

Like its namesake open greenspace in the city, the Central Park Dresser's classic mid-century 3-drawer design is a breath of fresh air. A mix of drawers and open shelving allows parents to organize baby's clothes, diaper supplies, and toys in a way that's most functional and appealing for their unique family.

Parents can store high-use (or just particularly adorable) items like diapers, wipes, and onesies in easy-to-access wire baskets (sold separately). As baby grows, the same baskets provide easy access to toddler toys or I-can-dress-myself clothing choices.

In keeping with dadada Baby's commitment to baby's safety as the first priority, the Central Park Dresser is designed for stability and strength alongside its good looks. Angled legs and internal forged steel support provide extra resistance against toppling, and deep drawers offer ample storage and help protect tiny fingers. Baby-safe finishes meet and exceed industry standards for environmental wellness, and the assembly instructions are simple to follow and easy to complete on one's own - no wrestling a fully assembled dresser into the back of one's car.

The Central Park Dresser pairs beautifully with the Soho 3-in-1 Crib and is at home in the nursery, the living room, or anywhere else families need both storage and style.
