The leading market contenders listed in the report are:

Dupont De Nemours and Company, Cargill, Incorporated, Angel Yeast Co. Limited, BASF SE, Lonza, Archer Daniels Midland Company, Koninklijke DSM N.V., Danone, CHR. Hansen A/S and Evonik Industries, among others.

Some Key Highlights from the Report

In November 2019, a joint venture took place between Cargill and DSM. Through the joint venture, they started commercial-scale production of EverSweet™ stevia sweetener as there is an increasing demand for reduced calorie-food and beverages among the health-conscious population.

The fermented beverages segment held the largest market share of 38.2% in 2019. Increasing consumption of fermented beverages like beer is expected to drive the demand for the fermented ingredients.

Amino Acids are forecasted to grow with the fastest CAGR of 6.6% over the forecast period. Growing preference for high protein diets among the health-conscious population has increased the demand for amino acids in the production of fermented ingredients.

Supermarkets accounted for the largest market share in 2019 as the supermarkets & hypermarkets are contributing over half of the total sales in the developing countries.

The Asia Pacific region is expected to be the fastest-growing region over the forecast period. The enhanced agricultural growth in the emerging economies and the improvements in the food & beverage industry have resulted in the growth of the region's market.
