Scope of the Shisha Tobacco Market Report:

This section deals with understanding the market drivers, advantages, opportunities, restraints and challenges. All of this is discussed in detail as below:

Drivers

Surge in Misconception about the Harmful Effects of Water Pipe Smoking

In order to reduce cigarette smoking, many consumers are turning to water pipe smoking. The consumers are largely unaware of the harmful effects of shisha tobacco smoked through water pipes, despite the fact that shisha tobacco smoking is more harmful to health than cigarette smoking. This misconception is widespread among people who smoke and do not smoke. The most common logic supporting this misconception is that water absorbs the majority of the nicotine during shisha tobacco smoking, making it a safer alternative to cigarette smoking. However, despite the tobacco industry's downward spiral, this misconception is the primary reason for shisha tobacco's global growth.

Surge in Female Smokers

As people's lives become more hectic and stressful, the number of male and female smokers has increased. Furthermore, tobacco companies have been releasing feminine-labeled products in order to increase the number of female consumers. Flavor-infused shisha tobacco is becoming increasingly popular among the millennial generation.

The increasing inclination towards shisha tobacco to escape everyday stress and boredom will further propel the growth rate of the shisha tobacco market. Furthermore, the increase in disposable money, rapid urbanization, rise in online retailing coupled with the rapid emergence of the e-commerce industry also boosts the overall market's growth.

Opportunities

Research and Development and Marketing Techniques

Furthermore, the tobacco product manufacturers have invested in developing several low-risk tobacco products to further extend profitable opportunities to the market players in the forecast period of 2022 to 2029.
