The museum educates visitors using 14 audiovisual displays revealing the hard facts about psychiatric abuses. Visitors learn more about mental health human rights during the two-hour self-guided tour via educational panels and videos created from interviews with over 160 doctors, attorneys, educators and survivors. The museum was opened for the purpose of raising awareness on the history of psychiatry and to help create effective change to existing mental health laws.

Governments, insurance companies and private individuals pay billions of dollars each year to psychiatrists in pursuit of cures that psychiatrists admit do not exist.”

About CCHR: Initially established by the Church of Scientology and renowned psychiatrist Dr. Thomas Szasz in 1969, CCHR's mission is to eradicate abuses committed under the guise of mental health and enact patient and consumer protections. L. Ron Hubbard, founder of Scientology, first brought psychiatric imprisonment to wide public notice: "Thousands and thousands are seized without process of law, every week, over the 'free world' tortured, castrated, killed. All in the name of 'mental health,'" he wrote in March 1969.
