The webinar on Global Supply Chain will discuss the importance of understanding customers' needs. It will also address creating a supply chain responsive to those needs. The webinar will also discuss the role of technology in supply chain management and how it can be used to automate processes and improve communication. Participants are expected to better understand how to optimize their supply chains by the end of the webinar.

The webinar will include other key figures in the financial industry and is expected to be very informative. The focus will be on how the current global pandemic has affected supply chains worldwide. Attendees will learn about the steps companies take to adapt and mitigate risk. There will also be a discussion on the challenges and opportunities of managing a global supply chain. Key topics will include supplier relations, transportation, and warehousing. This webinar is an important event for anyone involved in the financial industry. Attendees will gain insights from leading experts on how to overcome the challenges of today's global market. The webinar will also include a Questions and Answers session. This will allow attendees to ask questions about the topics covered in the webinar. An expert in the field will moderate the Q&A session, and all questions will be answered promptly. Attendees are encouraged to submit their questions in advance to address them during the webinar. This will ensure that all attendees have a chance to have their questions answered.
