Dairy desserts refer to the dairy products that are produced from milk which are known to be highly rich in nutrients such as potassium, protein, vitamins, calcium and phosphorous. These desserts provide a delicious taste and come in attractive packaging.

The increase in health consciousness among population across the globe acts as one of the major factors driving the growth of dairy desserts market. The rise in constant innovation in the addition of new flavours in dairy desserts, and high demand for ice-creams and sweet dishes accelerate the market growth. The availability of the various sources mainly including the chocolates, vanilla and fruit for better taste, and increase in popularity owing to the attractive packaging further influence the market. Additionally, rapid urbanization, change in lifestyle surge in disposable income and growth in awareness regarding health benefits extends profitable opportunities to the market players in the forecast period of 2022 to 2029.

On the other hand, increase in the prevalence of lactose intolerance among population and stringent regulations are expected to obstruct the market growth. The inclination towards vegan diet is projected to challenge the dairy desserts market in the forecast period of 2022 to 2029.
