The ARC NFT marketplace offers its partners an exciting array of features, including lazy minting. Lazy minting benefits the project or creator as minting only takes place when an NFT sale occurs. This means that gas fees are charged to the user only at that point in time. These kinds of advantages put the creators and users first, and reduce several barriers to entry such as steep up-front NFT minting costs.

ARC's NFT marketplace also only charges 1% fees, approximately 50% less than the industry standard, and shares half the revenue generated with anyone staking $ARC tokens.

The $ARC token stakers benefit from partner token and NFT airdrops or any other forms of partnership revenues realized by ARC. In 2022, $ARC token holders received a significant airdrop of 5 million $SCSG tokens.

ARC CEO TJ Dunham shares:

"SCSG is the perfect partner to launch our marketplace with. They're at the forefront of GameFi and our partnership represents the ideal go-to-market strategy. Our collaboration goes well beyond NFT sales. We're synergizing to give all of their NFT's real utility, to create farms and other important contracts for their ecosystem, and to educate millions of kids and young adults about DeFi through the StarCards metaverse over the next few years"

In early 2022, StarCard Sports Games's CEO Steve Schechter, announced a significant partnership between StarCard Sports Games and ARC, that extends beyond the initial NFT launch on which occurred on 22 July 2022.
