

Legendary Music Festival Substance 2022 to Rock LA

Daring Rock Music Festival Substance 2022 to Rock LA with Darkwave Bands

MALIBU, CALIFORNIA, USA, October 18, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- A legendary lineup of some truly powerful, great rock bands of the darkwave/goth / industrial/punk genre is set to rock LA across two nearly sold-out nights on October 21st and 22nd. It's called Substance 2022 and is created by the team behind Restless Nites.

The show's lineup is headed by the legendary Jesus and Mary Chain. Fans of The Jesus and Mary Chain may know they generally avoid interviews and generally avoid even playing live.

Legendary darkwave greats The Chameleons also lead, as well as electronic experimental pioneers Clock DVA. Powerful new artists round out nearly 40 other incredible sets including Sextile, Youth Code, Kaelan Mikla, Parade Ground, Patriarchy, and Model / Actriz among more. DJ sets will include those by Boy Harsher and Stephen Mallinder from Cabaret Voltaire. The daring performances of feminist-led bands including Patriarchy and others make this a show that can't be tamed.

SUBSTANCE 2022 is the most exciting goth / industrial music festival we have seen come about in the U.S. for over 20 years since Convergence in Chicago.”

We hold the DIY (do-it-yourself) ethos very near and dear to our hearts. In the past, pandemics and outside forces have made presenting our unique vision all the more complex, but the stars have aligned, and autonomy reigns. This year we are able to present some of the most amazing up-and-coming acts in the scene. We intend to fully utilize our favorite theater in Los Angeles to the apex of Substance."

Held at the historic Los Angeles Theater, on October 21st and 22nd, a small number of tickets to Substance 2022 are still left. Tickets available at: <https://substance2022.com/> and <https://restlessnites.com/events/substance2022>
