As companies move back to in-person work, there has been a spike in demand for flexible and collaborative offices. Marc El-Khouri, Director of Workstyle at Boxer Property, commented "we are extremely excited to bring this additional co-working space closer to where many of our customers live. Demand for this style of working from the residential neighborhoods of Sugarland that surround our properties at 12808 West Airport Blvd and 1601 Industrial Blvd, is extremely high and as we are currently running at almost full occupancy with our existing space, it was not a difficult decision to double that footprint with 24,000 square feet, that will feature some of our latest office and design innovations!".
