Depth of Anesthesia Monitoring Market Dynamics

Drivers

Advancements in anaesthesia monitoring technology

Depth of anaesthesia monitoring includes features such as advancements in anaesthesia monitoring technology, which will result in manufacturers launching new products into the market, increasing demand, as well as various chronic diseases requiring anaesthesia, which has increased demand for depth of anaesthesia monitoring.

Increase in surgeries for osteoporosis and accident cases

The global market is being driven by an increase in the prevalence of osteoporosis and osteoarthritis and an increase in the number of knee and hip transplantation surgeries.

Osteoporosis is a major health problem, particularly among the elderly. The illness is linked to joint and bone wear in the hip, knee, wrist, and spine. Every year, approximately 8.6 million fractures are caused by osteoporosis around the world. Women are more likely to suffer from this illness. The International osteoporosis foundation estimates that 75 million people in Europe, the United States, and Japan have osteoporosis.

High prevalence of chronic diseases in geriatric population

The growing geriatric population is driving the demand for anaesthesia depth monitoring equipment. This is primarily due to the senior population's heightened sensitivity to chronic diseases. An increase in the frequency of cardiovascular, gynaecological, neurological, and urological problems in people aged 65 and up is fueling the growth of the anaesthesia monitoring market.
