Supporters of the event are raising health for the women in our communities — from Manhattan to Montauk. Northwell's Katz Institute for Women's Health has created the only network of experts — including clinicians, scientists and researchers — who are uniquely qualified to address the healthcare needs of women.

"Women have been understudied, underdiagnosed and undertreated for too long," said Stacey E. Rosen, MD, senior vice president of women's health at the Katz Institute for Women's Health. "Our experts focus on the unique health needs of women and collaborate to create a new model to improve the health of women. We've launched a revolution in women's health."

Dr. Rosen joined Tara Narula, MD, associate director of the Lenox Hill Women's Heart Program and CBS News senior medical correspondent, to address attendees during the event, which was emceed by Rosanna Scotto, anchor of "Good Day New York" on WNYW-Fox 5 News.

Additional sponsors for the evening included: Lead Sponsors: American Securities Foundation/Michael G. Fisch, and Iris & Michael Smith; Premier Sponsor: Beth and Peter
