

NEW Automation Test centre goes live in Ireland

Automate Warehousing a distributor of Kardex Remstar products today announces a new testing facility at their warehouse in Tullamore, Co Offaly

TULLAMORE, COUNTY OFFALY, IRELAND, August 17, 2022

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Automate Warehousing a distributor of Kardex Remstar products today announces a new testing facility at their warehouse in Tullamore, Co Offaly. Due to high demand for automated storage and retrieval solutions the facility has been setup to showcase the storage and pick efficiency of Kardex solutions in distribution, warehousing, logistics, ecommerce, pharma, and order fulfilment.

New test centre for Ireland

The ability to test out different automated storage solutions helps guide companies in understanding what will work best in relation to software, picking strategies and storage needs.”

David Coffey, Managing Director, Automate Warehousing

Visitors can experience an assortment of Kardex solutions from Shuttles and Carousels as well as Kardex Powerpick inventory software, pick lights, laser pointers, colour picking, batch and trolley picking. Visitors will have full access to evaluate industry-specific, real-world scale solutions necessary to meet the growing needs of their businesses.

Automate Warehousing is the Kardex reseller in Ireland and they created this in-house testing facility to give their customers the ability to try it out for themselves.

“We developed the demonstration warehouse so that our customers and visitors can choose the right solution for their business. The ability to test out different offerings depending on their business requirements will help guide them in understanding what will work best in relation to software, picking strategies and storage needs.” Said David Coffey, Managing Director for Automate warehousing “The pressure on companies is increasing exponentially, and our expertise and Kardex solution means we can offer the breadth, experience and solutions that are tried and tested to the meet the growing needs of our customers here in Ireland.

“Automate Warehousing is a major player in our region, and they have the expertise and knowledge that is required for our customers in Ireland” said Aaron Thornton Director, Kardex UK/Ireland. “We’re excited by this new opportunity that offers companies a real-time experience and fully support this new initiative”
