/EINPresswire.com/ -- Bridge Financial Strategies is pleased to announce the launching of its entirely new website at www.bridgefinancialstrategies.com.

The new site promises to make it easier for current and prospective clients alike to learn about and engage with this full-service financial advisory firm in Arizona.

The new site, which was re-imagined and rebuilt from the ground up, presents the visitor with simple, elegant access to information and services designed especially for four key groups of investors: Those nearing retirement, professionals, divorcing women and those just beginning their investment journey.

From there, each audience can easily learn more about the firm and its longstanding services to clients, including comprehensive wealth management, financial planning and divorce financial planning.

There are also a wealth of other tools and information, including a complete "Knowledge Center," blog posts, team bios and much more.

"We believe that everyone deserves freedom, dignity, and peace of mind. With our new website, Bridge Financial Strategies shows how we understand and embrace this belief, while empowering people to pursue these goals," said Julie Kern, Bridge Financial Strategies' CEO and Senior Wealth Advisor.

While elegant looking and simple to navigate, the site is actually quite deep and powerful. It features videos, presentations, calculators for everything from taxes to legacy planning, lifestyle tips and much more. It also features, prominently, the company's "Bridge to a Better World": its efforts to make a positive difference in the community it serves. These include volunteer events, charitable giving and the soon-to-launch Bridge Financial University, designed for those who seek education in various financial topics such as budgeting, college funding and investing.

If a business has been accredited by the Better Business Bureau ("BBB"), it means BBB has determined that the business meets accreditation standards, which include a commitment to make a good faith effort to resolve any consumer complaints. BBB accredited businesses pay a fee for accreditation review and monitoring for continued compliance and for support of BBB services to the public.

BBB Accreditation Standards represent standards for business accreditation by BBB. Businesses based in the United States and Canada that meet these standards and complete all application procedures will be accredited by BBB. The Code is built on the BBB Standards for Trust, eight principles that summarize important elements of creating and maintaining trust in business.

BBB accreditation does not mean that the business's products or services have been evaluated or endorsed by BBB, or that BBB has made a determination as to the business' product quality or competency in performing services.

Businesses are under no obligation to seek BBB accreditation, and some businesses are not accredited because they have not sought BBB accreditation.
