“The investment I have made as an independent artist has been fueled by passion, as have all of my projects, beginning with super charged recording sessions and boutique performances. I am just beginning to truly capture my musical journey and aligning with the best talent I can, creating the most meaningful experiences in the name of my own Groovalution,” said ellee ven.

ellee ven estimates over half of her songs have been inspired by beats produced by Prodéje. Prodéje is an original West Coast rapper who started with Tupac in the 90s and continues to be the talent behind South Central Cartel. Also at the core of ellee ven's writing is longtime co-writer Jody Giachello, ellee ven's drummer. Incoming, talented contributors include Sam Sims, Reggie Dozier, Michael Scott, Kern Brantley and Jeff Motley.

“You don’t even know the talent that is in this room,” said Producer Terry Santiel when speaking to the artist and collaborator roster during their last recording session.

Each distinguished industry veteran brings a unique strength to ellee ven’s writing and production process. Percussionist Terry Santiel has recorded at Motown Records, was a founding member of Rose Royce, also toured with Janet Jackson, Barry White, Justin Timberlake and many more. Now, Santiel is producing ellee ven, bringing together some of the greatest talent in pop music.

Guitarist Michael Scott formerly worked with Prince and Justin Timberlake. Sam Sims, a bassist, has shared the stage with Janet Jackson, Michael Jackson and the Dixie Chicks. A keyboardist, Jeff Motley has worked with Beyonce’s Destiny’s Child, Mary J. Blige, and Little John. Most recently, he co-wrote “May to September” with ellee ven.

As a means of artistic independence, ellee ven proudly owns the rights to her entire 200+ song catalog.
