Ed Roman is a celebrated Canadian musician with an avid fan following from across the globe. Having recently released his uplifting new single, "I have a Dream," he has been working hard to create an equally positive and joyful video. With a release date of August 22nd, 2022, the new music video features a young girl, Aubri Metcalfe, experiencing different aspects of the human existence from her perspective.

Filmed on location at Area 51, the video serves as a reminder for people to enjoy the basic pleasures of being human, while realizing how small joys in life are the actual source of true happiness.

It encapsulates a dream like quality and a child's imagination about looking at the world in an innocent yet prophetic way.”

According to Ed, "The libretto of the song is suggestive of beautiful baseline things that we all need in our life. Food, shelter, water, love. I felt a child would best illustrate the simple properties in this human experience. The Mithras figure is often depicted as a female or small child, and in this video, she illustrates the duality of existence. A trial by fire and water. Its repetitive cycle has been the re-calibrator for human existence since time began. Igni Natura Renovatus Integra. It encapsulates a dream like quality and a child's imagination about looking at the world in an innocent yet prophetic way."
