/EINPresswire.com/ -- Almowafir - The Best Google Chrome Extension For Saving Money via Coupons, the Only Arabic Extension of its Kind is now Here

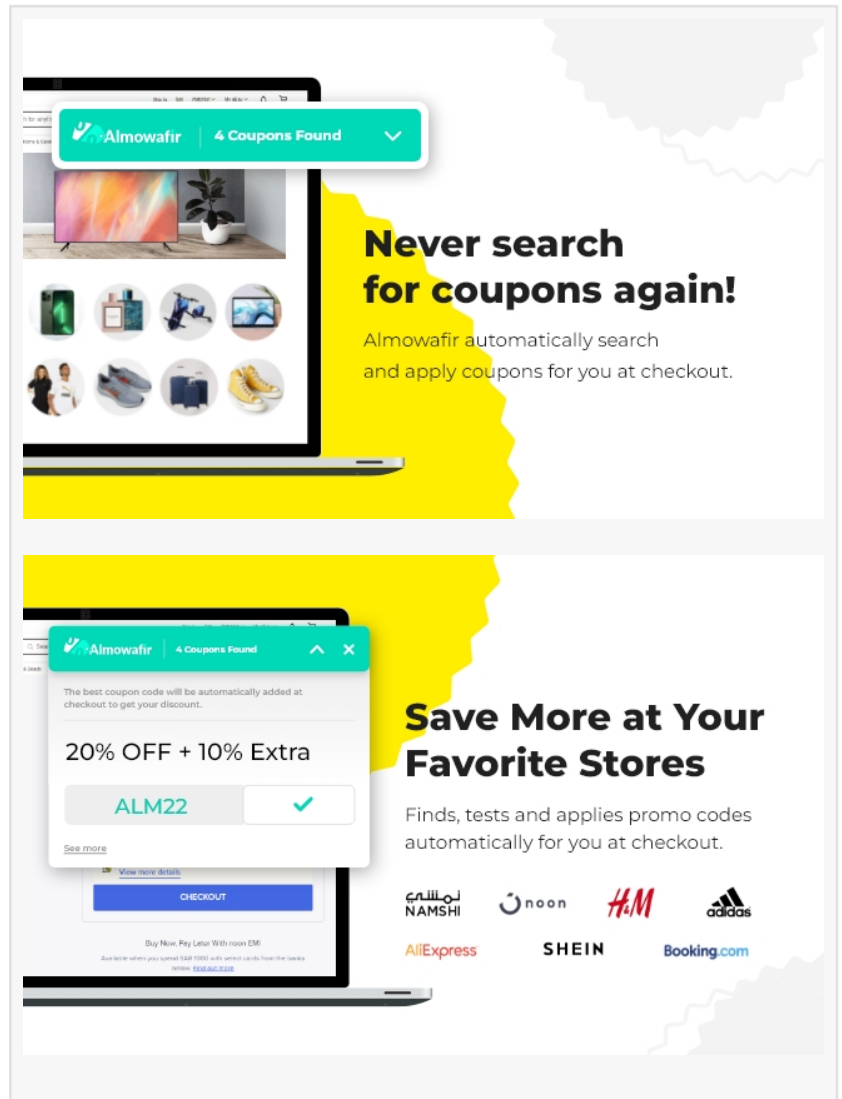

Almowafir announces a new Chrome browser extension that allows its users to shop while it searches the web for suitable coupons that save hundreds of thousands of dollars each month through exclusive offers, amazing deals, and discounts - all with a seamless auto-application process.

Almowafir - The largest coupon and discount code service in the Gulf introduced their third way of helping you save money besides their website and mobile app - their brand new Google Chrome money-saving extension that'll allow you to shop without caring for coupons.

Almowafir Money-Saving Chrome Extension Characteristics

Shopping online can be exciting, but is there a way to save money while shopping from the comfort of your home?

Almowafir has the first complete Chrome extension for coupons in Arabic that allows all the shoppers from the Gulf to shop carefree and save money while doing so.

The image displays the Almowafir Chrome extension interface. At the top, a green notification bar shows 'Almowafir' and '4 Coupons Found'. Below this, a laptop screen shows a grid of product images. To the right of the laptop, a yellow banner reads 'Never search for coupons again!' and 'Almowafir automatically search and apply coupons for you at checkout.' Below the laptop, a white pop-up window shows a coupon code 'ALM22' with a green checkmark and the text '20% OFF + 10% Extra'. At the bottom, a row of logos for various stores is shown: NAMSHI, noon, H&M, adidas, AliExpress, SHEIN, and Booking.com.

Besides the Chrome extension, Almowafir's services are available on their official website and on their mobile app, that's available on both Android and iOS.

Users will be able to use the latest coupons and discount codes with an "install and forget" extension that'll save you money 100% of the time.

Here are some of the best features you'll find yourself enjoying while using Almowafir's Chrome extension:

New & Modern

Almowafir's extension is brand new, which means it's set up to provide you with the smoothest experience possible.

In addition to this extension being up-to-date function-wise, it also looks sleek and minimalistic, and currently, that's the name of the game. We'd like to see some features such as a wishlist added, but currently, there's no word about it.

No More Discount Code Hunting

With Almowafir's latest Chrome extension, you aren't expected to do anything after adding it to your Google Chrome (or the browser of your choice).

When you go on a website that you'd like to shop from, and you pick out the items you want to buy, the extension will notify you of how many coupons it found for that item in that particular store. Honey made a revolution in online shopping coupons, but Almowafir modernized it to its current limits.

Premium Brands All Over

These coupons don't provide you with discounts in random stores that you would never shop from anyways. Premium brands and premium stores are included, which is what you'd expect from the first Chrome extension in Arabic.

Local Brands Included Besides big brands that you're all familiar with, Almowafir's services extend to all major local brands and stores such as Noon, Namshi, Sivvi, Jumia, etc...

This is expected from the first all-Arabic Chrome extension that is aimed toward spenders and consumers from the Gulf countries.

For those consumers, it's important that they can save money while shopping in their local stores and buying their local brands, and that's what Almowafir provides you with. But, if you're not a local in any of these countries, it's best you stick to well-known brands.

Over a Million Satisfied Users

When talking about a service that's as big as Almowafir, it's important to look at other people's experiences.

Besides the Chrome extension you just heard all about and the official website that's the birthplace of Almowafir's services, they also have an app that's available on both Android and iOS devices. Over 1 million satisfied users on all platforms spoke their minds and gave Almowafir's app an overall rating of 4,9★ which is quite impressive.

Every Day Use

Services like these are often used daily or monthly since today's world is heavily reliant on online shopping, and installing an extension once is an action that'll help you on a regular basis. Hundreds of thousands of dollars are saved in consumers' pockets each month thanks to Almowafir, and that's what speaks for them.

Summary - Almowafir Coupon Codes and Discount Services

Almowafir is one of those companies that clearly has its user's interests at heart. With a fully functioning Chrome extension, website, and apps for both Android and iOS devices, the dedication of this company is easily visible.

The minimalistic design and simple use contribute to this brand's popularity, and it makes it suitable for users of all ages, which is something you don't see often.
