The latest digital banking technology and business strategies will be on display. Presenting will be FinTech entrepreneurs from the following startups:

Eazybank - Premium digital banking platform

Empire - Tribal-focused digital banking platform

Poetry Finance - Historically Black Colleges or Universities (HBCU) focused digital banking platform

NeuXP - Lifestyle-focused digital

The graphic features the Mbanq Labs logo at the top left. Below it, several startup logos are displayed: a butterfly, Eazy Fintech Solutions, neuXP, and an American flag. The central text reads "VIRTUAL DEMO DAY" in large, bold letters, with the "M" in "DEMO" being a stylized teal shape. Below this, it says "USA FinTech accelerator" and "Thursday, 8th September, 2022, 2pm – 4pm EDT" in a teal rounded rectangle. The background is white with teal accents and a large teal circle on the right side.

The event will include breakout sessions and networking with FinTech and digital banking leaders.

Daniel Ong, Labs Accelerator Manager, says, "Technological advances mean that, with the right support, launching a digital banking FinTech is one of the most exciting, lucrative and forward looking business opportunities in the USA. These startups are ready to showcase their laser-focused approach to providing financial services for specific target niches and under-served banking customers. I am looking forward to hearing how they are harnessing FinTech to build scalable businesses across the USA."

Tahirah Dalila El, Tribal Minister of Finance, Empire, says, “Empire is the first neobanking platform to provide economic development solutions, to include a democratic process for inclusion, and consistent self-driven profit share for economic, culture, and social development.”

Eazybank CEO, Daniel Lolobrigida Jr. says, “We cannot offer financial services to 60 million freelancers in the US without talking about payment solutions. Freelancers often get delayed payments that can cause terrible cash flow situations.”

“Eazy brings in a single platform: financial services, payments, and rewards. We provide powerful tools, facilitate payments and financial transactions and make money travel much faster.”

Jeremy Mah, CEO of NeuXP, says, “Financial apps never stop progressing as users continue the search for the easiest way to manage their banking needs. That is why at NeuXP, we work hard to transform the financial experience by connecting users to global finance and lifestyle services.”

Mbanq Labs is a leading digital banking and FinTech accelerator. It provides training and wide-ranging support for technology innovation, fundraising, marketing, and legal and regulatory frameworks, for financial and technology startups in the USA and the world.
