Although both professionals have a similar work environment, there are subtle differences between a bartender and a mixologist. For instance, a bartender knows the ingredients of a specific cocktail. But on the other hand, a mixologist understands why these ingredients are mixed in this drink. So when searching for a "mixologist hire near me," ensure that the service provider has experienced mixologists with knowledge of different drinks like custom concoctions and can put a unique spin on traditional cocktails. Although there are many options, many Londoners recommend Spin and Shake Mobile Bar Hire for parties and events.

"We hired the Spin and Shake team and used the mobile bar for our wedding day. We signed up for the unlimited package. It saved us time and money, and I couldn't be happier! For instance, a mixologist hire can manage the alcohol & beverage inventory, customize drinks, and engage guests with his skills. As a result, the hosts have plenty of time to enjoy themselves rather than serving and handling guests.

Professional mobile bartender providers arrive with their equipment to serve cocktails, mocktails, and drinks. They will work with hosts to create a theme, selection of drinks, and requirements before arriving with their gears at the event. So that party hosts can relax and enjoy themselves rather than worrying about the needs of their guests.
