

Portal/FifteenTWELVE to host iconic DIY rock fest in Louisville's Portland neighborhood

LOUISVILLE, KY, USA, August 29, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The nation's premier underground music festival will rock Louisville's resurgent Portland neighborhood this Labor Day weekend, as Portal/FifteenTWELVE welcomes the PRFBBQLOU festival to its creative compound. More than two dozen local and regional acts are set to play across three stages on Saturday Sept. 3 and Sunday Sept. 4 from 3 PM to midnight, in what is setting up to be one of the biggest weekends in the venue's history.

"We can't wait to host this awesome event at our space," said Portal/FifteenTWELVE co-founder Brad White. "This music, These bands and This fest is one of the primary reasons Portal even exists".

The PRFBBQ (Premier Rock Forum BBQ) festival has its roots in Chicago, where 12 years ago members of an online forum belonging to famed engineer Steve Albini came together to celebrate DIY music culture in the basements of the city's rock clubs. It's since exploded into an international event, with festivals held in New York and London.

“PRFBBQ is a perfect fit for this city’s tight knit music community,” said Portal/FifteenTWELVE co-founder Andy Cook. “We’re excited to team up to team up with Mag Bar and Kaiju to bring PRFBBQ back to Louisville.”
