We are honored that he cares deeply about IES, the North Carolina communities, and the manufacturing industry to give so unselfishly of his time” as the Chairman of the Board for the NC State University Industrial Expansion Solutions (IES) Industry Advisory Council. John has an extensive background serving Eastern North Carolina’s region through economic development and brings seasoned business experience to the 2022 – 2023 IES Industry Advisory Council in their efforts to advance the industrial extension mission. This mission provides assessments and guidance for businesses in North Carolina and strives to grow their economic development.

“We are grateful that John accepted the challenge to lead as the Chairman of the NC State University Industry Expansion Solutions (IES) Industry Advisory Council. He is the perfect person to guide the council and help the organization advance our mission in support of manufacturing. John has been a strong advocate for manufacturing through his extensive work in Economic Development on the local and state level. We are honored that he cares deeply about IES, the North Carolina communities, and the manufacturing industry to give so unselfishly of his time,” states Phil Mintz, Director of NC State University Industry Expansion Solutions (IES) and the NCMEP Network.

“We are a supplier of custom assembly systems. Our business depends on other manufacturers and networking has always been a key component for our business success,” states Jerry Pedley with Mertek Solutions in Sanford, NC, “I have known John Chafee many years and his connection has allowed us to gain many networking connections. He has local knowledge and is very good at communicating the great assets of economic development in NC. I remember many times the events he managed and the great connection with business and education I was able to gain. Industry Expansion Solutions is fortunate to have him as our chairman. He will help us with networking and make a difference in IES growth and accountability.”

In addition to his duties as the Industry Advisory Council Chairman, John will continue to serve transitioning business owners and buyers in his business intermediary role with Transworld.
