Expedience Software Receives Women-Owned Business Certification

The Women's Business Enterprise National Council (WBENC) officially recognizes Expedience Software with certification as a Women's Business Enterprise.

MANCHESTER, NH, UNITED STATES, September 1, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- New Hampshire-based Expedience Software is proud to announce that it has received a Women-Owned Business Certification from the Women's Business Enterprise National Council (WBENC). The certification is a significant achievement in this women-owned, women-led company's ongoing commitment to being an industry leader in diversity, equity, and inclusion.

This certification sets Expedience apart from other organizations as the only certified women-owned proposal automation company in the U.S. "Since its inception, Expedience has continuously fostered a diverse workplace in a historically male-dominated industry," says Melissa Mabon, CEO and Founder of Expedience Software. "This has led to diversity in the firm's leadership and has allowed us to recruit and retain the very best talent of varying backgrounds and perspectives."

The official distinction as a women-owned business enables partnering industries to diversify their vendor support chain by working with certified women-owned organizations like Expedience Software. "Companies that need to diversify their business partnerships can now utilize Expedience Software to fulfill those diversity requirements"; continues Melissa Mabon.

WBENC believes that diversity promotes innovation, creates partnerships that bolster the economy, and that diverse vendor relations are tantamount to good business.
