Medical Aesthetics ventures Aesthetics Card and Job Snob have announced an agreement to co-brand for specific marketing opportunities.

LOS ANGELES, CA, US, September 12, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Aesthetics Card, a Fintech for the Medical Aesthetics industry offering the first and only Visa business rewards credit card for Medical Providers, and Job Snob, the matchmaking Medical Aesthetics staffing and recruiting job agency, have signed an exclusive co-marketing agreement.

"We are thrilled to partner with Aesthetics Card, an exciting new industry resource. Job Snob's goal is to fill the unmet staffing needs within Medical Aesthetics. This collaboration will allow even greater access to our concierge recruiting and other services." - Kipper Doughty Hudek and Bree Black, Job Snob Founders.

Job Snob takes a boutique approach to help practices scale their teams. Aesthetics Card is doing the same with financial products and services. We align based on this like approach to our industry.”

John Bergano

Under the marketing agreement, Job Snob clients will have access to apply for the Aesthetics Card Visa rewards business credit card and utilize the card's 90-day, 0% interest financing promotion when entering into a concierge recruiting agreement to hire for high-demand positions such as Nurse Injectors or Medical Directors.

For Aesthetics Card, the marketing agreement allows the company to build on key partnerships that bring value to cardholders with vertical-specific vendors that practices can utilize on a regular basis. In addition to offering a Visa rewards business credit card, with perks including cash back, Aesthetics Card works with third party lenders to bring flexible, working capital solutions to medical aesthetics practices as well as other
