AVENTURA, FLORIDA, UNITED STATES, September 1, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Vijilan Security, a leading security monitoring company that offers an end-to-end security solution to Information Technology providers and Managed Service Providers, announced today it has partnered with Ukrainian software company Temy to help improve its user experience (UX) and user interface (UI). This move comes as Vijilan plans to revamp its UX and UI to better cater to its clients' needs.

"We are using Temy because they have excellent skills and are great with communication and relationships," said Luis Medici, product manager for Vijilan Security. "The fact that they are still offering services under literal hellfire in a war-torn country is actually remarkable. This is Vijilan's way of giving a helping hand to those who are suffering under the heavy boot of bloody war."

Vijilan has learned that, in order to achieve maximum results in quality and efficiency, you must engage the team members delivering on UI/UX as early as possible in product development. Temy's team members met the task head on and quickly understood Vijilan's business needs.

"Temy's team is very passionate and has deep expertise in the field of UI and UX software engineering," added Medici.
