Taking community film festival experiences to new heights

TORONTO, ONTARIO, CANADA, September 8, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- What began as a local community film festival 17 years ago is now an annual event that delivers stunning performances, harmonizing film, music and dance while drawing its audience in to provocative discussions; presented by local and international artists over food and drink. Among them are Jay Douglas a 3 times Juno nominee, a music producer and the band Kollage featuring Alexis Baro.

Jay has worked with international reggae stars such as Beres Hammond, Freddie Mcgregor, Jesse "Dubmatix" King, Ziggy Marley, Lyn Tait and the great Ernest Ranglin.

Alexis Baro was born into a musical family in Havana, Cuba. Classically trained, he took up the trumpet at the age of age 8 and completed his musical education receiving a teaching certification at the prestigious Amadeo Roldán Music Conservatory in Havana.
