Insulin Market Dynamics:

Drivers

Rise in demand of insulin

The market for human insulin is expected to expand during the forecast period as a result of factors including an expanding diabetes patient population, rising population exposure to major diabetes risk factors, rising market demand for human insulin analogues, technological developments in the field of human insulin delivery devices, and favourable medical reimbursements.

Rising number of diabetic patients

Increased numbers of diabetic patients, rising rates of obesity among the elderly population, growing public awareness of the advantages of insulin, and government initiatives to improve healthcare are some of the factors that are predicted to boost the growth of the insulin market in the forecast period of 2022–2029.

Rise in patient population

On the other hand, a rising patient population with diabetes and an increase in the number of development activities pertaining to insulin delivery systems will further encourage a number of opportunities that will contribute to the expansion of the insulin market during the forecast period.

Opportunities

Increase in the number of research and development activities

Additionally, R&D efforts in the insulin market are increasing as scientists worldwide work to create a superior insulin molecule for diabetic patients that boosts effectiveness and reduces negative effects.
