Verona Roses has created the first luxury wooden box of preserved roses with a high-definition screen for video playback.

LOS ANGELES, CA, USA, September 9, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Los Angeles-based company, Verona Roses, shakes up the market for preserved flowers and personalization, creating the first luxury wooden box of preserved roses with a high-definition screen for video playback.

Its founders, Karina Quiroz, Andrea Dominguez, and their husbands Victor and Raúl, will launch this luxurious product full of innovations that will mark a before and after in the market of preserved roses in the United States and the world.

Verona Roses unites the best of several worlds: the best Ecuadorian preserved flowers that last for years; the technology both in its built-in screen and in the development of the platform that allows creating the video without any problem for the user; and, the luxury of the incredible European Walnut wood used for the production of the best pianos in the world.

“Verona Roses comes to break with the lack of personalization that flower arrangements have today. We are very proud of this innovative creation”, commented its co-founder, Karina Quiroz.

Verona Roses will be launching on September 26th in two box sizes with 9 and 15 high-quality roses, respectively.

“The flowers look and smell divine for years, we use the latest techniques to preserve all the freshness of each of our roses from its origin in Ecuador”, added its co-founder, Andrea Dominguez.
